Bridging the Couple Chasm: Gottman Couples Therapy A Research-Based Approach, Level 1 Training

November 2 & 3, 2012 (Friday/Saturday)

Presenters: John Gottman, Ph.D. & Julie Schwartz Gottman, Ph.D.

Receive a Complimentary 300-page Manual featuring new relationship assessment questionnaires and clinical interventions that you can use immediately with your clients. This Manual Only Available for Workshop Participants!

When couples enter the therapy office, they sting with pain and despair. They look to the clinician to referee chronic conflicts, fix their partners, and rebuild burned bridges. Now, based on Dr. John Gottman's 35 years of compelling research with over 3,000 couples, there's a practical and highly effective approach to guiding these couples across the chasm that divides them. In this course, Drs. John and Julie Gottman provide you with a research-based roadmap for helping couples to compassionately manage their conflicts, deepen their friendship and intimacy, and share their life purpose and dreams.

Who should attend

This course will be of benefit to all mental health practitioners, therapists, psychologists, psychiatrists, social workers, nurses and related professionals working with couples. It is also of benefit to students and interns, professional teachers of couples therapy, researchers in the social sciences, and employee assistance professionals.

What you will learn

In this inspirational two-day course, you will learn:

- Research-based strategies and tools to help couples successfully manage conflict
- Skills that empower couples to dialogue about their worst gridlocked issues by uncovering their underlying dreams, history, and values
- Methods to help couples process their fights and heal their hurts
- Techniques for couples to deepen their intimacy and minimize relapse
- New assessments and effective interventions to help understand couples' struggles

"This was the single most useful conference I have attended in 23 years of clinical practice. Clear, concise, and useful. Thank you so much for your presentation, your work, and your humor!" (E.B., PA)
