November 5 & 6, 2010 (Friday/Saturday)

MEETS FULL REQUIREMENTS FOR ADVANCED TRAINING IN DOMESTIC VIOLENCE EDUCATION FOR DV PROVIDERS!
ADVANCED DV CREDIT FOR CHILD CUSTODY EVALUATORS
IN DAY TWO MORNING SESSION!

DAY ONE Topic Outline — Sandra L. Brown "Women Who Love Dangerous Men"

This ground-breaking workshop will introduce innovative new perspectives for making sense of what is often so hard for everyone in this field to understand: what draws women to psychopathic, narcissistic, and borderline men? Based on years of research and development of treatment models, you will learn the interventions that Ms. Brown has pioneered to help these victims understand themselves and to not keep making the same mistakes again and again:

- Understanding Developmental Aspects of Axis II and 'Pervasive Disorders' Relationship to DV
- Intensity of Attachment in Victims and Its Etiology
- Similarities Between Pathological Intense Attachments and Other Forms of Mind Control
- Relationship Dichotomies & Dynamics in the Personality Disordered Relationship
- Treatment Issues: Model of Care Approach for Pathological Love Relationships

DAY TWO Topic Outline — David Wexler/Chen Oren/William Eddy "Treating Difficult Men"

- Counseling Fathers – Research-based interventions to help DV men and their family life
- Dealing With High-Conflict People – Innovative approaches for managing challenging and demanding clients in DV programs
- Attachment Loss and Violence – Contemporary theories in attachment theory help us understand the complexity of relationship violence in new ways. Learn innovative new interventions for applying attachment theory into group treatment for domestic violence offenders.

ABOUT THE SPEAKERS:

Sandra L. Brown, M.A., is the author of many books on surviving abusive relationships, including Women Who Love Psychopaths and How to Spot a Dangerous Man. She has pioneered the field of identifying profiles of women prone to attracting and tolerating narcissists and psychopaths. Her treatment program for "Healing the Aftermath of Pathological Love Relationships" is one of the first in the country to address this growing population of untreated women.

Chen Z. Oren, Ph.D. is a professor in the Clinical Psychology Doctoral Program at Phillips Graduate Institute in Encino, California, and the co-editor of Counseling Fathers.

William A. Eddy, LCSW, Esq. is President and co-founder of the High Conflict Institute. Based on his work as an attorney, mediator and therapist, he is the author of several books and specializes in training professionals to manage high conflict disputes.

James A. Reavis, Psy.D. is the Director of An Intrapsychic Clinic in San Diego and also Director of Forensic Services at the Relationship Training Institute. Intrapsychic provides analytic, attachment-based offense-specific treatment, risk appraisal, and forensic psychological evaluation to criminal offenders.
